AF MAQAYES

AF MAQAYES 2012 - AF AL BURAQ & AF ABAD BY MADOUR -
Breeder : K.K AL NABOODA -17 Races 7 Wins 7 Places

" I have bred and weaned AF ABAD who was sold to Saudi Arabia. I tried to buy her back after all the success of AF MAQAYES and I managed to do so unfortunately she died in Saudi before she could come back to Dubai. AF MAQAYES by AF AL BURAQ was a bullet of a horse. Strong and fast with a big heart.

I wanted him to run races. He is a proven stallion. I am very proud of him. All this success is due to my team who works together from the owner to the groom each playing an equal and important part."

By KHALID KHALIFA AL NABOODA

AF MAQAYES

AF MAQAYES a stallion from the best bloodlines in the world, with significant results, who should be a sure value on the international scene in the near future, an additional success to be attributed to AL AWEER FARM, stud farm of K.K AL NABOODA.

Sire of AF ABAD Dam of AF MAQAYES

« Breeding Purebred Arabians is a passion for me, which has motivated me for almost 40 years. I am a small breeder who started with an Arabian broodmare MADOURA (IBN NEDJARI x NEVADOUR) who was going to give me MADOUR with MANGANATE. It is this same strain that I kept with ABIBA (full sister of MADOUR who produced a good number of winners, some of whom are still distinguished today in France, UAE and Qatar. How lucky for me that the talented K.K AL NABOODA has introduced MADOUR into its breeding program, it is the dream of every breeder to see its production win and last over time in the production of breeders as serious and efficient as that of Mr K.K AL NABOODA » By M. FLIPPER

FLIPPER 1968 GOSSE DU BEARN & FLEUR D'AVRIL by MEKE - Breeder : J. DAUGAREILH

We have mentioned a number of stallions in our previous articles, FLIPPER is one of the pillars of French Arabian horse breeding. Also born in the southwest, a land of champions, he is through his father GOSSE DU BEARN and through his mother Fleur d'Avril, the brother of many quality performers from numerous breeding farms. FLIPPER for his part was a father of notable stallions including TIDJANI, ALA CROIXNOIRE, BLAISE, DUNIXI, TAHAR DE CANDELON Etc...and of a significant number of notable broodmares such as NIVADA and NEVADOU.

FLIPPER has also produced a number of renowned Anglo Arabs who are still today in the pedigrees of the best performers of this breed including : SOLEIMAN 1978 Breeder Mar. DE MORATALLA sire of winners, IBAR etc...

ARWISTAWA

Remembering ARWISTAWA: The first Double National Champion of North America

By Debbie COURTNEY & Roxanne ROGERS

*"Ethereal" is the word I have heard most often used to describe ARWISTAWA by those who were fortunate enough to have been in her presence.

*The dappled grey beauty, whose legacy was to become the first Arabian horse to be crowned both US National Champion Mare and Canadian National Champion Mare in the same year, was foaled in April 1958 at Albigowa State Stud in Poland. She was sired by GEYRAN, a son of the brilliant KASZMIR, and out OF ARFA, a full sister to BASK ++. Her dual National Championships, making her an international champion, was arguably one of the most outstanding achievements in the show ring by any horse of any breed in 1965.

*While in Poland, ARWISTAWA had a successful season on the racetrack. In 1962, she set a track record for 2600 meters and won the Ofir Stakes in open company. She was widely thought to be the most beautiful mare in all of Poland. She was not for sale. The circumstances by which she landed in North America are interesting and were by chance as much as by design.

ARWISTAWA

ARWISTAWA

*Like many of my generation, my introduction to Arabian horses was through the pages of a magazine -- specifically America's venerable publication, "The Western Horseman." I remember the day I found an issue from 1966 on my neighbor's coffee table and how as I picked it up, it just happened to fall open to a feature on the 1965 US National Championships. There she was. Arwistawa. In that moment, I knew I was looking at a one of a kind, once in a lifetime horse. Even as a kid, I knew that she would forever be the standard by which I compared all others.

*Decades later, I had the good fortune of crossing paths with one of *Arwistawa's connections via social media. Roxanne Rogers is the daughter of the late Allan and Lois Rogers, trainer and manager for Percy and Lois Williamson's Double U Ranch, the Canadian importers and owners of *Arwistawa. The Rogers family owned *Arwistawa after the dissolution of Double U Ranch and cared for her through the remainder of her life. Roxanne and I became friends and eventually I asked her some questions about Arwistawa, as follows.

GEYSAN

ARFA

ARWISTAWA

ARWISTAWA arrived in Canada from Poland in 1964. Originally, Percy B. Williamson started the Double U Ranch with U.S. bred Crabbet line horses.

What prompted him to send your father, Allan Rogers, to Poland to look for horses?

*There were many factors involved, but the primary one was that Dad had been tasked by Percy Williamson with finding the next National Champion. It started with trips to several American farms. Once Dad saw *Dornaba ++ (NABOR x DARDA) at Kale's Arabians in Washington, he knew that she would be unbeatable, except possibly by another Polish Arabian. Dad was a third generation horseman with a well trained eye for class, quality, and conformation -- he recognized a high caliber horse like Dornaba ++ when he saw one.

In that era, the Nationals were extremely competitive with open classes so large that they had to be split due to the number of entries. And although there were a few popular, professional handlers, the bias wasn't as fixed as it is today. Conformation was the judges' first priority. Another major difference was that the modern artificial construct of so-called "type" hadn't been set, and it took a seasoned and sophisticated eye to spot true "class," which was duly rewarded.

*Dad attempted to purchase *Dornaba ++ to no avail. Once he had seen her, he knew that Poland would be the source for a National Champion. Dad had already been impressed by the Polish import *Gaypolka ++ (Pietuszek x *Caliope), his earlier purchase on behalf of Mr. Williamson. He knew he would have to convince Percy to travel to Poland. This was a hard sell as Percy hated flying but eventually a compromise was reached. They would go by ocean on the Queen Mary as far as Britain. It was Percy's hope that they would find a mare there. When they didn't, Dad had to persuade Percy to board a puddle jumper for the short trip to Poland. The flight was uneventful, at least until they landed and found themselves in the midst of Khrushchev's coup, which basically rendered them hotel hostages. As for *Dornaba ++? Dad was correct. She was US National Champion Reserve Mare to Arwistawa in a class of 55 of America's top mares. She went on to capture the National Championship the following year.

ARWISTAWA

Arwistawa was not only undoubtedly the most beautiful mare in Poland, she had a race record to match.*

How did Mr. Williamson persuade the Poles to sell her ?

*Dad actually didn't see Arwistawa until the last day of their trip. He had all but given up on finding the world beater he had set out for. She was coming off the racetrack from a gallop under when he spotted her. He recalled that time stood still. She had an ethereal, regal, and pervasive presence that only a non-horseman would fail to see. He asked to see her untacked, but was told, "Oh no, no, no. This one is not for sale." He didn't say anything, but asked the groom to write her name down in his notebook.

*Later at the hotel, he told Percy they were going home without striking a deal although several breeding horses had been selected. After they got back to Kelowna (Canada), he instructed Percy to call Animex, listing the nine horses they had chosen with the caveat that Arwistawa be the tenth. After negotiating a bit, the Poles agreed to sell her for $10,000, which was the highest amount for which they had sold a horse to date.

ARWISTAWA At the track at WARSAW

ARWISTAWA National Champion Mare 1965

ARWISTAWA

After being crowned a double National Champion at the time when Polish horses were gaining popularity in America, I can imagine there might have been breeders beating down the doors trying to buy her. Can you elaborate on that?

*Yes. Many offers came in, each one higher than the last -- up to $100,000. After the Williamsons divorced and *Arwistawa went to Mrs. Williamson in the settlement, Wayne Newton called her yearly with an offer. He wanted to breed her to Aramus, but Mrs. Williamson wasn't selling.

*While it's unfortunate that she didn't produce more, she did have two nice foals by Gaypolka ++. Can you expand on that? And if you could have bred her to any stallion, who would you have picked?

*We were very happy with Gay Miracle, but by the time she was born we were through with the show world. Gay Miracle was a highly successful broodmare with flawless conformation. Prior to Gay Miracle, *Arwistawa has been shipped to be bred to Elkin ++, also a double National champion who was as close to her standard as possible. Unfortunately, she contracted klebsiella while there. This further complicated her reproductive future.

*Of course, I would have loved to have bred her to my stallion, *Falat (Gwarny x Forta). Infusing Forta with Kaszmir is a fantasy nick. *Kirkor (Gwarny x Carmen), *Mohacz (Trypolis x Mimonka), and Orzel ++ (Pietuszok x Ofirka) would have been other options. Had she been fertile, she would have been bred to a different horse every year, as Thoroughbred breeders did with class mares. I've observed breeders sometimes attempt to upgrade inferior stallions by using superior mares, which I believe is opposite to proper breeding practices.

Arwistawa's other foal, Arwitraz was stunted due to Arwistawa's degraded uterus and premature delivery. He sired normal sized foals and was absolutely beautiful. He had a great mind. I rode him often and even chased the odd cow with him.

Arwistawa was bred to *Gaypolka ++ for no other reason than no matter how much we intervened medically, she only successfully conceived via natural pasture breeding with Gaypolka ++, the love of her life. They were quite a pair.

ARWISTAWA

Arwistawa had a brief performance career in 1966. She held her own against some of the best in Park and English Pleasure. After two years on the racetrack, how did she adapt to the show ring?*

*She didn't like showing in the restrictive way required by Park. I marvel when Arabian people discuss how many successful racehorses were also successful at Park. Watch a race and notice horses champing at the bit during the post parade or pogo-sticking because they just want to run. That's what Arwistawa wanted to do. Dad didn't want to humiliate her. She was a lot of horse and took immense pride in her accomplishments on the track.

*"Blood will tell." What ancestral traits did Arwistawa exhibit? Which ancestors did she most resemble?

*She was the perfect combination of Kaszmir and Arfa, who also stood over a lot of ground. After being graced with information from Prince Czartoryski's grandson about his grandfather's relationship with Kaszmir, I wrote an article titled "The Mystery of Kaszmir." While it's easy to romanticize the past, one can remember the brilliant horse that retired to the Prince's garden and see his reflection in *Arwistawa, whose similar retirement, given free range on the ranch with *Falat, made her happy, just as she was with Gaypolka ++ in her prime.

ARWISTAWA

*Did Arwistawa have any unusual habits or characteristics?

She would pop her lips and snake her neck when she got excited. All of her descendants have the same neck move right down to the fourth- generation tail female descendant, AR Legacy!

*What's your favorite memory of Arwistawa?

*So many. Vivid memories of watching her run freely in the yard. Witnessing the love affair between her and *Falat. And very vague memories as a preschooler, being plunked down in the manger with a brush -- usually with *Harpia but sometimes Arwistawa. I can still see the sun streaming into the stall windows and glinting off of her silvery, almost opalescent mane, and thinking she was a magical creature from one of the books Mrs. Williamson would read to me. A Pegasus without wings. Even now, as I'm older, I still like to believe that if equine angels exist, she is an archangel and is reunited with my heroic father.

*How would you like Arwistawa to be remembered?

I would like her to be remembered just like the Williamson diamond that was presented to the late Queen. As a one of a kind, massive, unparalleled pink diamond. Unique, royal, and the pinnacle of natural perfection.

Gallons OF ORIENTAL HORSES

Text by: William Richardot de Choisey & Patrick Boudehen

Translation by: Sonia Smaldone

For many years in Europe, we have been very used to following so-called breeding competitions at different levels for which the horses get trained to compete with their model in step and trotting, classic mounted events are sometimes on the program, but are not always viewed by a large audience, in order to overcome this deficiency, endurance has assumed a significant role in making generous horses under saddle so special.

Not so long ago, equestrian enthusiasts very involved in equestrian sports, mainly polo, dreamed of an equestrian competition based on the principle of a relay race of the Paris Dakar kind, taking place somewhere in the country of origin of the Arabian horse or his derivatives, these were events providing a novelty by uncovering desert landscapes, mixing dunes and sands in different colours depending on the time of day.

Teams should be composed of at least five riders with good riding skills with a team leader, horses got generally provided by local authorities, and the groups got united in the hope of victory after five days of distances varying from 30 to 40 kilometres, spread over two hundred kilometres of riding or running next to their horse, not having to gallop on rocky terrain, with an obligation to cross the finish line together.

Each rider must ensure the safety of their horse; veterinarians controled the physical condition of the horse at each stop with a rest time of 15 minutes, the heart rate at 64-minute pulses, and the absence of a gearbox to continue on the adventure according to the same rules of usual endurance contests.

Through these orientation and regularity races, which do not ignore some penalties concerning the general regulations, each competition tests the riders' abilities in an unfamiliar environment that must not be soiled. And everyone on the team must stay the team spirit by supporting the rest of his teammates in the vast desert, sometimes meeting bedouins still living there.

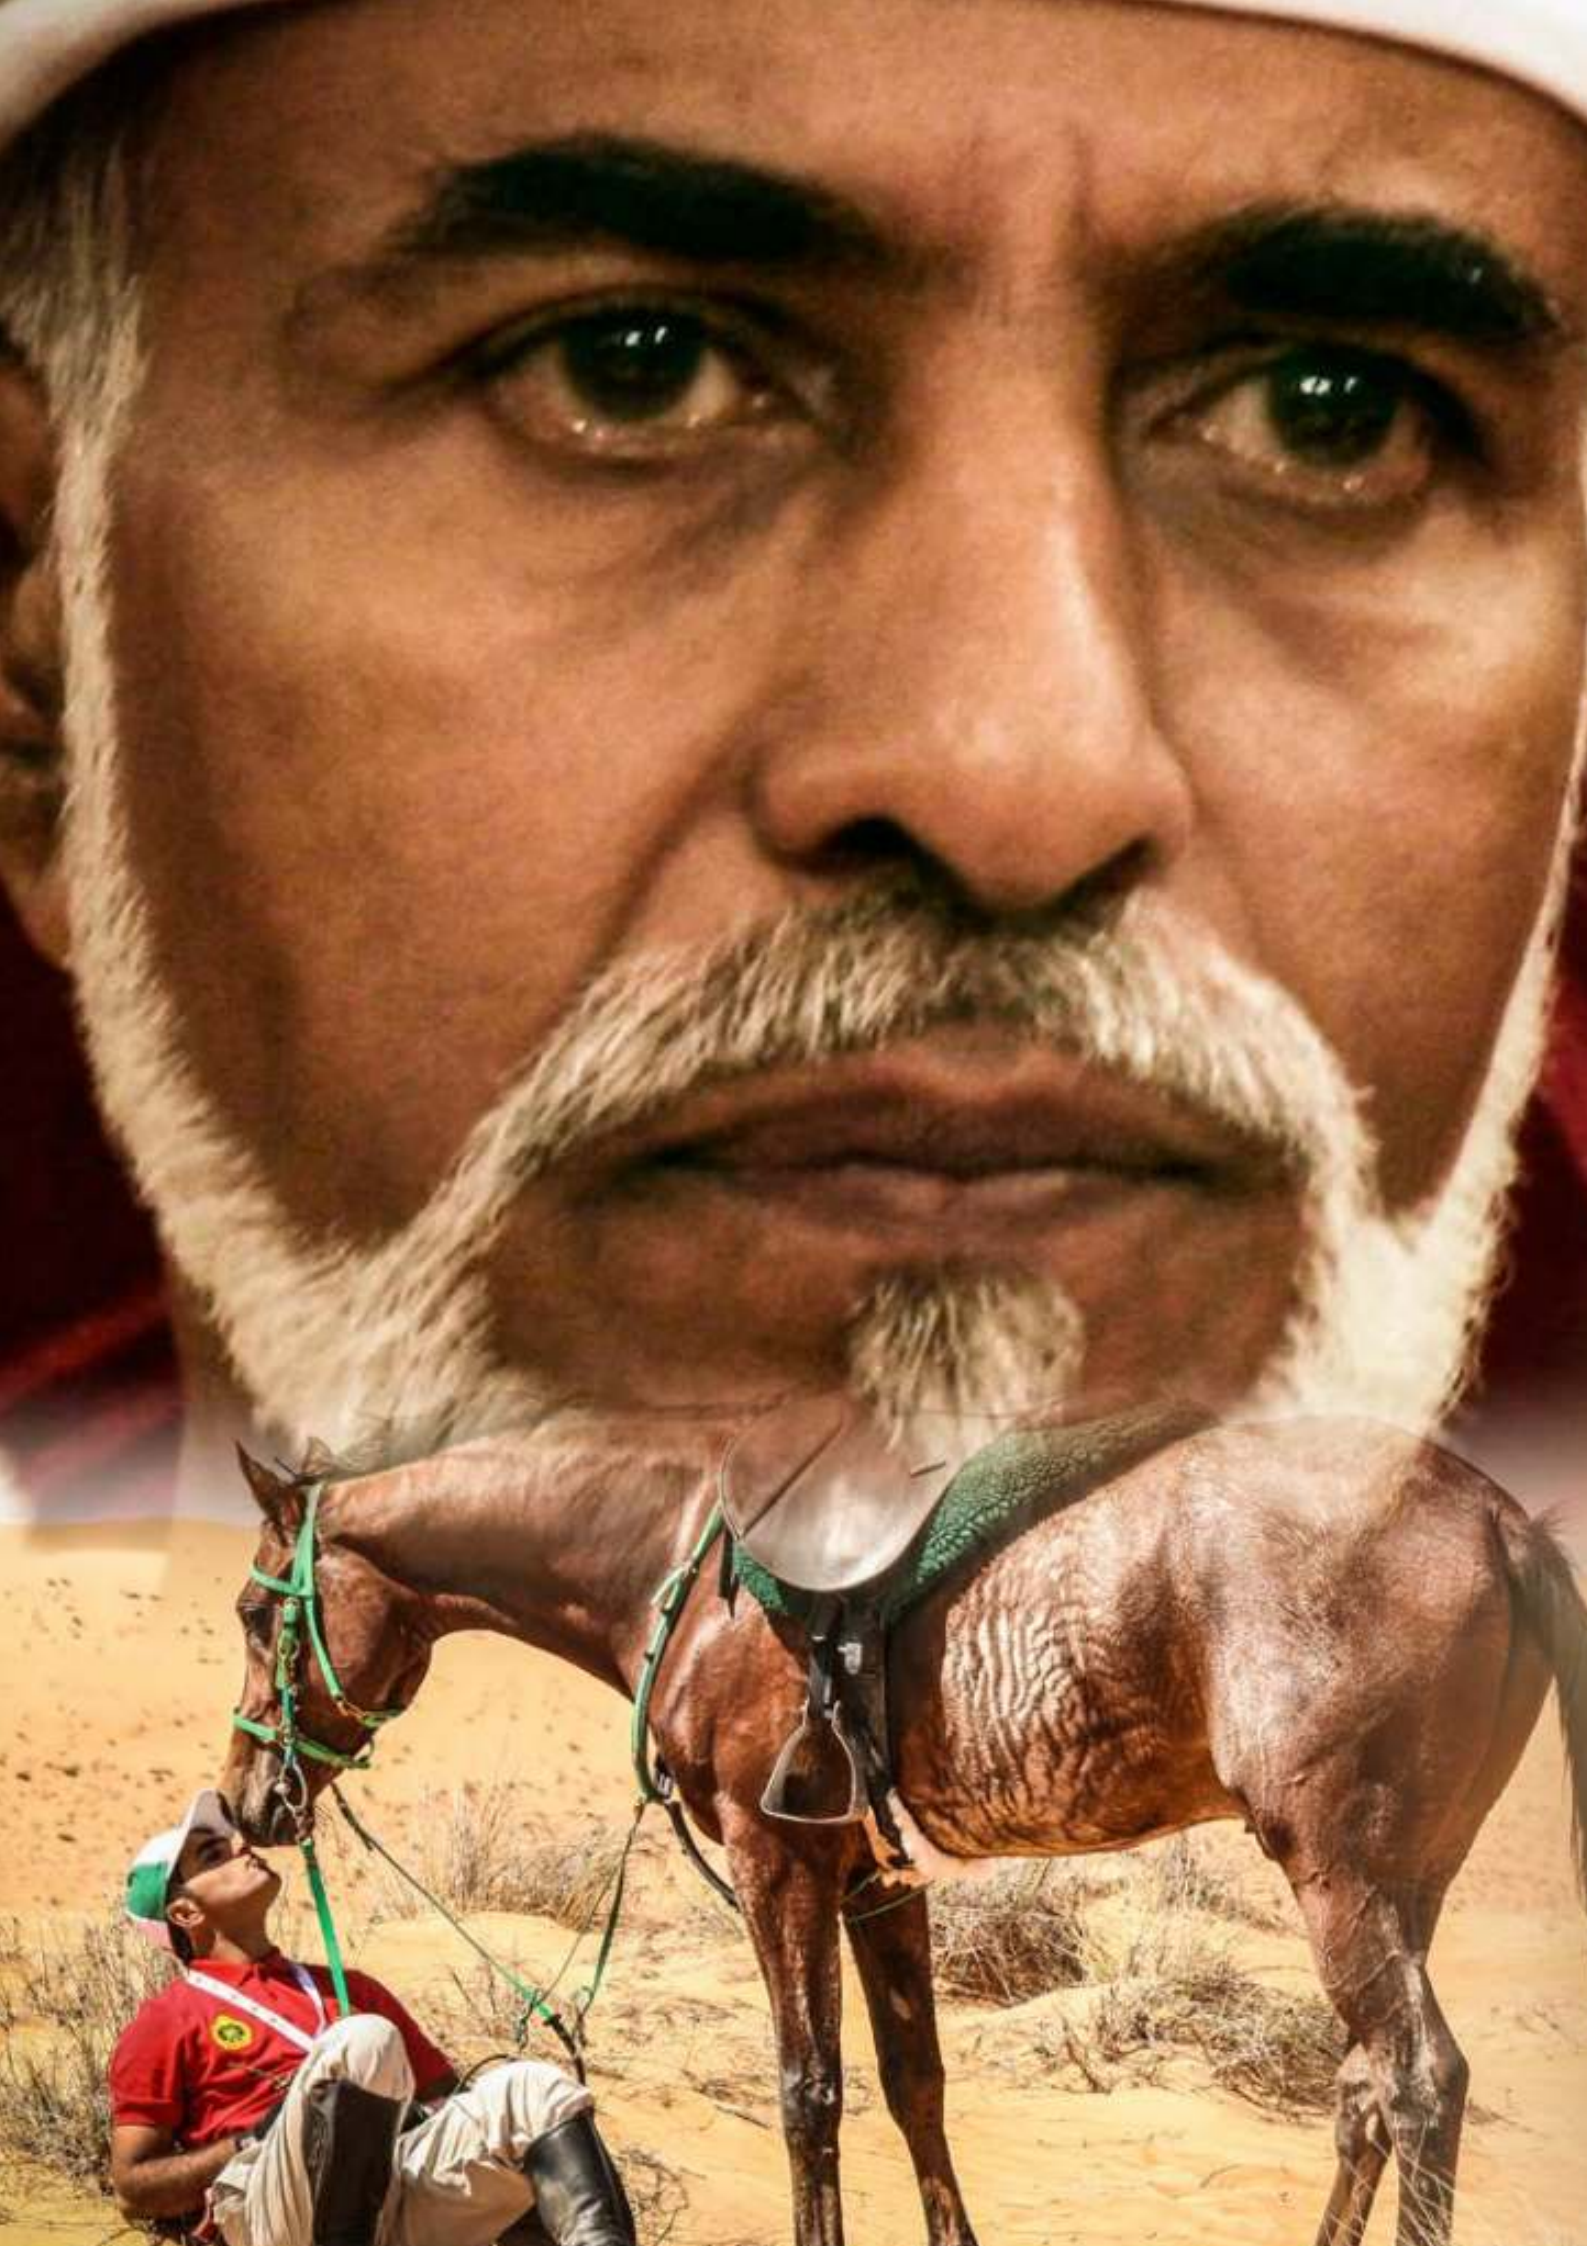

Therefore, this was indeed an international event, whose first edition took place in 2014 in the Sultanate of Oman, followeing Kingdom of Morocco in 2018, India in 2019, Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan in 2021, and Tunisia in November 2022.

In the present day, when Arabian horses get overproduced across the globe, this is a great creation that is only available to those riders who cannot compete in official endurance competitions, those will undoubtedly have time for a new sport occupation that will quickly gain popularity, even in Europe, breeders in overproduction will find a viable commercial outlet.

Although the financial costs should not be hidden for every participant who cannot be all, the strong points of the event include the hospitality at each exceptional stop, the care for the participants in the ephemeral villages, and of course the photo contest program, which reflects the spirit of this amazing event.

FEBRUARY 25 TO MARCH 4, 2018

WITH THE PATRONAGE OF HIS MAJESTY KING MOHAMMED VI

The competition got held for six days in the Moroccan desert of Merzouga, one of the settings of some of the most iconic Hollywood movies, including *Sahara, *The Mummy, and *Queen of the Desert, while the landscapes awed the participants, they had to endure the harsh rigours of the desert while riding mainly barb horses and arab-barbs provided by the Moroccan National Stud farms administration, due to sand storms, the competition was quite difficult and full of vertiginous adrenaline.
